Ranked 9th among 25 large employers in the state

Elizabeth, New Jersey-- For the second consecutive year, Trinitas Hospital was among one of the top rated 25 large employers in the state who participated in the Best Places to Work NJ 2007 competition. At the event hosted by NJBIZ which unveiled the winners, Trinitas Hospital achieved a 9th place ranking among a variety of companies including insurance, consulting and accounting firms, health care facilities, global health care companies, and health care service providers. Its previous ranking in 2006 was 19th.

“The very favorable ranking Trinitas Hospital achieved in the Top Ten among the 25 large companies honored by NJBIZ is a confirmation of the excellent care that all of our employees provide each day,” notes Gary S. Horan, FACHE, President & CEO, adding, “It is also a reflection of the regard and respect that our employees have for the hospital as their employer.

To be acknowledged publicly for the care and commitment that guides our work and service each day is always exhilarating.”

According to Glenn Nacion, Vice President, Human Resources, the “Best Places to Work NJ 2007” program is designed to recognize outstanding places of employment in New Jersey by celebrating New Jersey jobs and employers who provide them. The goal of the program is to help companies improve their workplace practices, which, in turn, helps them attract and retain the best employees.

“This Trinitas Hospital accomplishment, for the second year running, was made possible by the ongoing excellent work that our employees, physicians and volunteers perform,” notes Mr. Nacion, adding, “Thanks to our outstanding workforce, the real winners are our patients and the community we serve.”

A total of 50 large and small companies were selected from among hundreds that participated to determine which of them were considered outstanding places to work in the Garden State.
